

UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI EMERGENCY MEDICINE

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The University of Missouri Emergency Medicine Residency Program was created to form an environment of scholarly inquiry for the next generation of physicians to grow our field. Home to 30 residents, our program develops and refines their emergency medicine skills through the evaluation of thousands of patients over three years. We are busy, our patients are sick and our residents are prepared to manage any emergency department they choose after graduation.

Last year alone, we served:

Over 80,000
patients

2,100 trauma
team activations

150 STEMI
activations

700
code strokes

With additional community sites in Moberly and Jefferson City, our residents have the added opportunity to experience diverse clinical settings so they can be even more prepared to manage any emergency department after graduation.
